

Master the method – Taking the path to proficiency

Mastering the Activator Method is a journey that thousands of chiropractic physicians have chosen to take. The path starts with learning the Basic Scan Protocol, considered the cornerstone of the Activator Method. The introductory level of the technique is taught in most U.S. and many international chiropractic colleges and also through Activator Online (www.activatoronline.com).

Following are the guidelines to become Proficiency or Advanced Proficiency Rated in the Activator Method:

Students Upon passing the Activator Methods basic proficiency written exam either in school or online, a student will qualify to take a basic proficiency practical exam at an Activator Methods-sponsored seminar. After passing both the basic written and practical exams, a student will move to the next training level (Intermediate). Note: a student may present a college certificate to take the written and practical examinations at an Activator Methods-sponsored seminar. Upon receiving a license to practice chiropractic, the student will receive a certificate for the proficiency level achieved.

Doctors of Chiropractic Upon passing the Activator Methods basic proficiency online or written exam and a practical exam at an Activator Methods-sponsored seminar, a licensed doctor of chiropractic will receive a proficiency rating in the Activator Method and will move to the next training level (Intermediate). To maintain this rating, annual attendance shall be required at an Activator Methods-sponsored seminar.

Doctors of Chiropractic with a Basic Proficiency Rating Upon passing the Activator Methods Intermediate written and practical exam at an Activator Methods-sponsored seminar, the doctor will receive an Advanced Proficiency rating in the Activator Methods and will move on to the next training level.

Doctors of Chiropractic with an Advanced Proficiency Rating This rating qualifies the doctor to attend the most sophisticated training level offered by Activator Methods. To maintain this rating, annual attendance shall be required at an Activator Methods-sponsored seminar aimed at allowing the doctor to stay abreast of the most current research and development in the technique.

Regaining Lost Rating If a doctor loses a rating due to non-attendance within the required time period, the doctor can regain the rating by passing the appropriate exam(s) at the next Activator Methods-sponsored seminar the doctor attends. The following criteria for testing shall apply:

Date of last seminar attendance:	The doctor must take and pass:
Less than 18 months ago	Practical exam only
More than 18 months ago	Written and practical exam

With an Activator seminar offered somewhere in the world most weekends, and the availability of Activator Online, doctors and students have unparalleled access to expert training whenever and wherever they want it. Each seminar offers the added benefit of up to 12 Continuing Education credits. No matter what path doctors take, when they commit to the Activator Method, all roads lead to proficiency!
